conduct several hundred thousand hearings and trials annually. The Municipal Courts generate sufficient revenues to not only support the operation of the judicial branch of government in the state but also return significant general revenues to state and local treasuries.

As President, Judge Stokes takes the helm in setting the statewide strategic and legislative goals for the municipal court judges of the state, and represents the municipal courts on the Judicial Council of Georgia."

We at The Savannah Tribune would be remiss if we did not acknowledge the achievements of First Lady Michelle Obama as we observe Women's History Month. Her beauty, strength, grace and resilience as the first African American female to assume this position of highest honor for our country is an example to us all.

Though we can not spotlight you all individually, we salute all women and thank you for your contributions to our society and the world.

this year are to maintain room rates that are competitive with the market, and offer the best customer service in the downtown area. "At the Inn at Ellis Square, we want our guests to know that our staff is available to them at all times to guide them and give them an excellent lodging experience," Momon said.

As she takes the helm at the Inn at Ellis Square, Momon acknowledges the family-like culture that is fostered among staff and employees.

Perhaps reminiscing upon her own long career at the hotel, Momon said that her greatest joy as General Manager is to "watch newly-promoted people find their niche within our system, and continue to grow and prepare for their next promotion."

Within her own personal family, Momon and her husband of twenty-nine years attend St. Paul AME Church and enjoy spending time with their two daughters and four grandchildren.

The Company's strategy for achieving that goal has three components: Reduce - Improving water efficiency by 20 percent by 2012, compared to a baseline year 2004.

Recycle - Returning all water the Company uses for manufacturing processes to the environment at a level that supports aquatic life and agriculture by the end of 2010.

Replenish - Expanding the Company's support of healthy watersheds and sustainable community water programs to balance the water used in its finished beverages.

"Having access to clean water still remains a luxury, not a given, in large parts of the continent," Asiko said.

"RAIN helps us both fulfill our environmental goals while also providing health benefits that will allow our communities and our business to grow and prosper."

touch you - you are shielded and protected by the blood of Jesus; He is LORD! Glory Be to God! There is NO CONDEMNATION to him who is in Christ, Jesus! No weapon formed against you shall prosper! If God be for you, who can be against you! These are some of His promises to His Born Again children and He is not a man that He should lie! (Numbers 23:19) Life in the Spirit is far better than life ill the flesh and I am asking you to live that "LIFE," and receive God's forgiveness.

Luke 17:21 says, "The Kingdom of God is within you." Jesus spoke to us and said, "I AM the light of the world! Follow Me, and you won't be walking in the dark. You will have the light that gives life." (John 8:12).

God loved the people of this world so much that He gave His only Son so that everyone who has faith in Him, will have eternal life as you live on earth, and never really die. God did not send His Son into the world to condemn its people. He sent Him to save them! No one who has faith in God's Son will be condemned.

Accept Jesus as Lord and Savior today.

Be strong in your faith, just as you are taught, and be grateful. Go to church. Read your Bible, and grow strong in the Lord (Colossians 2:6.7) (Ephesians 5:8-10). God Bless you until He comes again.

the Teacher Awards program in 1994, the TLLCCF has presented 535 awards totaling more than $506,000 to early care and education providers for their dedication and excellence in providing quality child care.

Stated TLLCCF Executive Director Allan Miller, "Early care and education teachers do more than just watch children when their parents are at work.

They are helping to prepare them to enter school ready to learn; they are laying the foundation for the children to be successful in school and in life."

The Terri Lynne Lokoff / Children's TYLENOL® National Child Care Teacher Awards™ allows us the opportunity to personally thank those who are dedicated to teaching our children - our future.

By recognizing this group of exemplary child care teachers we are, in fact, honoring all in the field for their valuable contributions to society."

The TLLCCF has been making America better by improving early care and education for more than 22 years.

TLLCCF is a non-profit, organization established in 1987 in memory of Terri Lynne Lokoff, a devoted child care teacher.

it's inception in 2007 and has been with the school system for 33 years.

The award was presented by Cathy Hill, Vice President of Georgia Power, the sponsor of the program.

Mrs. Bishop has been invited to the Georgia Association of Career & Technical Education (GACTE) Conference in July, where she will compete against other representatives for the state honor.

The winner of that contest will represent Georgia and contend for the National ACTE award.
