Benjamin Van Clark, and West Savannah.

The program has led to new parks, new streets and sidewalks, and the construction of nearly 1,300 dwellings occupied by existing homeowners, new owners and renters.

A major component of these projects is the use of green, energy-efficient, sustainable design.

Another $100 million in investment is planned for a fourth Neighborhood Renaissance initiative -- Savannah Gardens, at the site of the former Strathmore Estates off Pennsylvania Avenue -- beginning next year. Upon completion, the project will receive EarthCraft Coastal Communities certification for its environmentally friendly design.

Schools Selected to Receive Title II D Grant

Three SCCPSS high schools have been selected as recipients of the Georgia FY10 Title II D Competitive Grant.

The grant has been awarded to Groves High, Johnson High, and Savannah Arts Academy.

Each school will receive $64,580 to implement the effective use of handheld technology in Advanced Placement (AP) classes.

The grant funds will be used to purchase appropriate handheld equipment and job-embedded professional learning for participating teachers.

The grants were designed to help AP teachers enhance resource and data offerings to be used by students inside and/or outside the classroom. The grants were also designed to assist high schools in attracting a wider spectrum of students to enroll in AP classes, thereby increasing the diversity of the AP student population.

For more information on the grant as well as the Title II-D program, log on to the Georgia Department of Education website at www.gadoe.org.
